

East Anglian Traditional Music Trust
Traditional Music Day
Saturday 27th September

Welcome to The East Anglian Traditional Music Trust's - Traditional Music Day 2025

We are excited about this year's event with an amazing array of music, song and dance celebrating East Anglia's rich heritage. Be prepared for a day filled with talks, workshops, films, storytelling, song, dance, music and more. We are sure you will find something for everyone.

Play an instrument? Jump into one of our many friendly sessions! Never played before? Try a Have-a-Go workshop and discover something new. Enjoy stepdancing, Morris dancing, country dancing, and Kerala dance across town, plus fun workshops to help you strut your stuff. Don't miss the Fringe events at Old Fox Yard & Fred's Bar! As you enjoy the sounds of Traditional Music Day, take a moment to experience Stowmarket's warm welcome! With its cosy cafés, characterful pubs, unique local shops, and friendly vibe, the town offers the perfect backdrop for a day of music, song and dance.

Welcome from Ivan Cutting - Chair Trustees

We're delighted to welcome you to Traditional Music Day 2025, a much-loved event that continues to grow in size, spirit, and sound. This year is particularly exciting as we kick off celebrations for the 25th anniversary of the Traditional Music Trust! It all began for me back in 1984, when I first met John and Katie Howson while working on The Reapers Year, an Eastern Angles show about agricultural workers gaining the vote. They joined us at several venues with their infectious energy—leading harvest-style dances and bringing traditional music to life. From those early conversations, the idea of the Trust was born, and in 2000 it officially launched. Since John and Katie's retirement, the Trust has carried on with passion and purpose. Even through the challenges of recent years, the team has kept the flame alive—thanks to the generosity of the Ruddock legacy, fantastic local support, and the dedication of people like the indefatigable Alex Bartholomew, who recently handed over the reins after years of brilliant work.

We're now proudly hosting our third Traditional Music Day in the town centre, with amazing support from Mid Suffolk District Council, Stowmarket Town Council, local councillors, venues, and our wonderful volunteers. Stowmarket is proving to be a perfect home for this joyful celebration of music, dance, and community.

If you'd like to help us grow even further, donations—whether in our buckets or via card—are always welcome and appreciated. Here's to a fantastic day of tunes, steps, laughter, and discovery. Let the music play on!

What Does the East Anglian Traditional Music Trust Do?

We're passionate about keeping the rich heritage of traditional music, song, and dance alive and thriving.

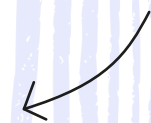

Here's what we do:

- Run events and workshops throughout the year
- Support other events with performers, advice, and resources
- Hire out traditional equipment like instruments, maypoles, and jig dolls
- Maintain our archive of songs, stories, and history
- Publish and share resources that help keep traditions alive
- Engage with schools, colleges and the community

All of this is made possible by a team of incredible volunteers. Whether you're a musician, dancer, web whizz, event steward, or just brilliant at making tea—we'd love to hear from you!

Exhibition- Romani and Traveller Singers in an Archive of English Folk Song

Hosted by Hazel Marsh – Professor of Cultural Politics. U.E.A

Stowmarket Scout Centre

Meeting Room

11am-4pm

Recordings of Romani and Traveller people have had a lasting impact on folk song repertoires in the UK and Ireland. However, the cultural and ethnic backgrounds of Romani and Traveller singers have seldom been acknowledged in archive catalogues. This exhibition focuses on the representation of Romanies and Travellers in the folk song heritage of England through the lens of the Vaughan Williams Memorial Library collections.

Artists

Nancy Kerr

EVENING CONCERT - John Peel Centre 7.15pm-10.45pm £25

Already a respected interpreter of traditional material, Nancy's emergence as a writer of rare style has drawn comparisons to William Blake in her reawakening of a radical folk mythology as a backdrop for contemporary narratives. Nancy is one of the most celebrated folk musicians of her generation, and has won 6 Folk Awards from BBC Radio 2 and appeared in various prestigious groups such as Melrose Quartet and Simpson, Cutting, Kerr. Her research on Norfolk traditional song has been recently featured on BBC Radio Three's "The Song Detectorists".

Macdara Yeates

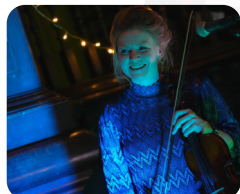

EVENING CONCERT - John Peel Centre 7.15pm-10.45pm £25
British Legion 3.45pm-4.30pm £5/£15day ticket

Described as "a deep and intense performer" (Irish Music Magazine), Macdara Yeates is known for his performances of Irish classics, docker songs and the forgotten ballads of his Dublin neighbourhood. Macdara has a crystal-clear voice that contains echoes of the declamatory style of Luke Kelly and the emotional depth-charge of Liam Weldon, yet his full-bodied singing is never anything but his own.

Georgia Shackleton

EVENING CONCERT - John Peel Centre 7.15pm-10.45pm £25
British Legion 2.15pm-3.15pm £5/£15day ticket

Georgia works with fiddle, voice, tenor guitar and drones to create crisp arrangements of old songs, and new compositions. She takes great influence from the traditional singers of the East of England such as Harry Cox, Walter Pardon and Phoebe Smith. Her solo album, 'Harry's Seagull' is a celebration of East Anglian traditional music named after a tune she wrote and dedicated to Harry Cox, who kept a wounded seagull as a pet for a period of time. Georgia will be performing this material along with Aaren Bennett on guitar and appearing solo in the evening concert.

James Delarre & Saul Rose

EVENING CONCERT - John Peel Centre 7.15pm-10.45pm £25
Session - 11 Market Place 3pm-4.30pm Free

James and Saul are known for their warmth and exquisitely delivered traditional tunes and songs. The duo intertwine seamlessly; dancing around the tunes and breathing fresh energy into the music. A founding member of the critically acclaimed Topette!!, Mawkin, and Mawkin:Causley, James has established himself as a stalwart of the English traditional music scene. Saul is a renowned melodeon player and singer. A long-time member of Waterson:Carthy, he has an unrivalled record of membership of premier folk bands including Faustus, Eliza Carthy's Wayward Band and Whapweasel.

The Scan Tester Fan Club

Session - Royal William Friday 8.30pm FREE
John Peel Centre 2.15pm-3.30pm £5/£15day ticket

The Scan Tester Fan Club are Will Duke (concertina), Liz Evans (fiddle), Jonathan Burrows (one row melodeon), and Pete Rogan (bassoon). They're dedicated to the style and tunes of the great traditional Sussex concertina player Scan Tester, whose instrument Will plays. The music is rhythmically driven and highly ornamented, interspersed with songs from Will Duke's unique repertoire.

Belinda Kempster & Fran Foote

Folk Club - British Legion 7.30pm-10.30pm £12.50
Scout Centre 2pm-3.30pm £5/£15day ticket

Belinda and Fran are a mother and daughter duo from Essex who sing folk songs from their family and home county without frills or fuss. Belinda began singing traditional songs in the 1960s. Many of their songs were learned from Fran's great uncle and farm labourer Ernie Austin, who was recorded for Topic's 'Voice of the People' release 'Flash Company' in 1974.

Matt Quinn

Folk Club - British Legion 7.30pm-10.30pm £12.50
Scout Centre 2pm-3.30pm £5/£15day ticket

Primarily a mandolin and duet concertina player, Matt is well known for his skills on the melodeon and as a singer. He currently performs solo, in a duo with George Sansome (Granny's Attic), and with the unaccompanied harmony trio Culverake. Matt created "In The Roud" a regular folk song podcast delving into the world of traditional folk song via the Roud Index and presents a live podcast version for us with the help of Steve Roud and Belinda Kempster and Fran Foote.

The Medlars

British Legion 2.15pm-3.15pm £5/£15day ticket
EVENING CONCERT - John Peel Centre 7.15pm-10.45pm £25

Originally formed in 2009 The Medlars are folk trio from Essex, performing songs and tunes originated and rooted in the folk tradition, revisiting and creating new arrangements of classic English folk songs with a contemporary feel. Its current line up formed from a chance encounter at Folk East 2017, The Medlars are now Alie Barnes - vocals, Emma Hardy - fiddle/vocals, Tom Hardy guitar/vocals.

Mossy Christian and Megan Wisdom

Folk Club - British Legion 7.30pm-10.30pm £12.50

Hailing from Lincolnshire and East Anglia respectively, Mossy Christian and Megan Wisdom perform traditional English folk songs, unaccompanied or supported by a variety of instruments. With songs from traditional singers such as Cyril Poacher, Sam Lerner, and Oscar Woods, influenced by revival era performers such as Peter Bellamy, Anne Briggs and Nic Jones. There are instrumental tunes too, with one row melodeon and saxophone complementing the mix.

Katie Howson

Scout Centre 2pm-3.30pm £5/£15day ticket
Session - Royal William 12pm 2.30pm FREE

A freelance performer, tutor, researcher and animateur, well known of course, for being the Artistic Director of the East Anglian Music Trust until 2017. Katie plays traditional music on the melodeon and harmonica and has spent much of her life either playing traditional music or passing it on to others.

Michael Sheehy

Session - Royal William 12pm-2.30pm FREE

Michael plays the piano accordion and is one of the finest exponents of the music of the Cork, Kerry, Limerick border. He plays in a style which is firmly rooted in the traditions of Sliabh Luachra. Michael is joined by fiddler Alan Block who also featured on Michael's album on Veteran, The Cat's Rambles.

The Old Timers String Band

Royal William 3pm-4.30pm FREE

This fiddle-led band plays a wide selection of traditional tunes from both sides of the Atlantic, from close to home to considerably far afield, reflecting the cross traffic of traditional music across the generations. The line up is Chris Holderness on fiddle, Phil Williams on bouzouki, David Reeves on 5 string banjo, Carly Stephens on fiddle, with Richard Blake on dulcimer.

Christopher Heppa

Scout Centre 11am-12pm £5/£15day ticket

Chris became interested in folk music aged around 17, but had no idea of the existence of recorded traditional singers, until when working abroad around 1974, he discovered Harry Cox. Once home, he visited Catfield and met Harry's daughter and son in law. Seeing that no one was researching this great singer, he began to interview relations, friends and local people, and continues to do so until the present, writing widely on the subject.

John Row

Storytelling United Reform Church(Main Hall) 11am-12pm FREE

Morris Sides

AnnieMalton North-West

Established in 1979 as Annies Fantasies. In 2018 we rename to AnnieMalton to move away from dubious internet search results but retain a link to our founder, Annie. Our trademarks are our red clogs, black and red stripes and being a side that likes to get out there and dance with enthusiasm. Based in Colchester.

Essex founded 1979

Boudicca Border Morris Border

Hadleigh-based Boudicca Border Morris were formed in 2018 and are an eclectic group dancing both traditional dances & original ones. Their self-described style is "Steam Punk meets pirate, we aim to entertain & have fun".

Suffolk founded 2018

Colchesler Morris Cotswold

Founded in 1926, originally named Colchester Morris Men and in recent years have become a mixed side. The side disbanded during World War 2 and reformed in 1953. They perform in the Cotswold style, accompanied by a variety of instruments including melodeon, accordion, fiddle and pipe & tabor.

Essex founded 1926

East Suffolk Morris Men Cotswold

East Suffolk Morris Men were formed in 1958 and at that time were the only Morris side in Suffolk; my how things have changed and grown! "ESMM dance traditional men's dances of England from the Cotswolds and enjoy keeping this rich tradition alive and sharing it with people of east Suffolk and beyond". Based around the Ipswich area.

Suffolk founded 1958

Bury Fair Women's Morris Cotswold

Bury Fair, founded in 1978, dances traditional Cotswold dances, and we take our name from the medieval fair that took place in Bury St. Edmunds from 1272 until 1871. The dancers are all women... and the musicians are mixed.

Suffolk founded 1978

Green Dragon Morris Border

A mixed border side. We took our name from a local historical reference found in the diaries of John Oakes 1741-1829; "The Morris men's drink allowances were taken at the Green Dragon in Guildhall Street".

Suffolk founded 1993

Haughley Hoofers North-West

Haughley Hoofers are a Ladies traditional North-West clog dancing group based in Haughley, Suffolk.

Suffolk founded 1984

Hells Bells Border

A Border Morris side, dressing in steampunk attire - it's a sassy combination! Hell's Bells is proud to be a mixed side. They perform at festivals and fairs as well as specific Morris and steampunk events.

Essex Founded 2016

Holt Ridge Morris Cotswold

Holt Ridge Morris are a mixed Morris side based mainly in North Norfolk but with members across the UK. "We dance the 'Cotswold' traditions which use handkerchiefs (waivers) and sticks.

Norfolk founded 2012

Hoxon Hundred Morris Cotswold

A side from the Norfolk/Suffolk border, practising in Hoxon. We have mixed aged membership and strive to give a traditional feel to our performance, drawing on the many traditions that make up the Morris.

Suffolk founded 1983

Kemp's Men of Norwich Cotswold

Founded in 1956 in Norwich, Kemp's Men dance a wide mixture of Cotswold Morris together with dances from their own local "tradition" of Norwich-upon-Wensum. They can be spotted in white shirts, brown breeches and green and yellow baldricks.

Originally a men's side they have recently become a mixed side.

Norfolk founded 1956

Little Egypt Cotswold

The Morris Men of Little Egypt, (colloquial name for Glemsford), to give them their full title, hail from Glemsford, near Bury St Edmunds. Originally set up to support a Church fête, they now dance all over the county, country and beyond. Highlights of each year are the celebration of May Day, the ever-popular Summer Solstice event, the Horkey and Boxing Day, and much else in between.

Suffolk founded 1992

Milkmaid Molly Molly

Milkmaid Molly's whole ethos is to support vulnerable and disadvantaged people to enrich their lives through the joy of music and movement. We have a core of people with various disabilities who are encouraged and helped by more able, fitter dancers. We perform very simply adapted Molly dances. The idea has proved so popular that we are now looking for help from fit people to assist our Mollies and guide them in the right direction when moving on the dance floor.

Suffolk founded 2012

Ouse Washes Molly Dancers Molly

"Ouse Washes have been performing the traditional Molly dances of the Fens since 1984. Based in Norfolk, UK, we regularly perform at major international festivals in the UK and beyond. Our powerful dances and mysterious stories from the depths of the Fens provide our audiences with a memorable experience!"

Norfolk founded 1984

Rising Larks North-West & Garland

The Rising Larks are a North West Morris and Garland dance team from Harwich in Essex.

Essex founded 1981

Rumburgh Morris Cotswold

Based in the village of Rumburgh, Suffolk. In summer, we perform at fetes, public events, and local pubs, often followed by music sessions. We are also known to perform traditional Mummer Plays.

Thank You's

A heartfelt thank you to all the artists, workshop leaders, stewards, café gurus at the URC, stallholders, venues and everyone—named or unnamed—who helps make Traditional Music Day so special.

A huge shoutout to Team TMD, who work tirelessly behind the scenes all year round to bring the day to life.

And a special thanks to Alan Bearman for creating such an exciting and diverse programme.

Shout out for Shirley

Stalwart EATMT Supporter and Volunteer, Shirley Harry is EATMT's longest serving "volunteer". For almost as long as the Trust's existence, Shirley has been involved in its work. Over the last 6-7 years, her unwavering support has been instrumental in helping to keep the EATMT ship sailing and so it's time we took some time to recognise her work. Many will know Shirley from the numerous folk festivals and concerts that are put on around the country (and further afield). She is the reliable ticket buyer, audience member, solo singer, group singer, musician, dancer, caller, MC, Duty manager, Event Organiser. The list goes on. Behind the scenes, Shirley runs the EATMT Friends Membership Scheme, adviser, helper of anything and the provider of a sound shoulder to lean on. Reliable, hard working and trustworthy are traits that makes Shirley's contribution to the Trust's work invaluable. And all of these qualities also make her a superb friend.

Cheers Shirley! Long may you continue to gift your time to EATMT!

Southwold Books

Blyth Voices

Folk songs collected in Southwold
by Ralph Vaughan Williams and George Butterworth in 1910
Thursday 9th October 2025 4pm to 6pm

Southwold Sailors' Reading Room

Cost: £5 to include a glass of wine, beer or soft drink

The Author KATIE HOWSON will be talking about her book which was first published in 2002 as part of the Blyth Valley Voices project, and revised in 2024 to include a song missed in the first publication, as part of the EATMT project Vaughan Williams Folk, which coincided with the national celebrations commemorating 150 years since Vaughan Williams' birth.

The 16 songs were collected mostly from Southwold fishermen. Katie will be joined by local singers who will sing a selection of these songs.
